

Why: each engine's decode step reads ~17 GiB of weights once for its active batch.
One engine with 16 calls shares that read across all 16. Two engines repeat it and take turns.